Chapter 11

Expired and Spent Laws : Alphabetical Order

11. An Overview of the Chapter

There are laws that are neither in force nor are repealed. To this category falls, laws that are expired or spent. Laws expire when they are promulgated for a particular span of time. On the other hand, laws fall into spent category when they are neither repealed nor are relevant for practical purposes due to the change of circumstances or context. In this chapter expired and spent laws have been classed and presented according to alphabetic order.[1] The authors believe that there may be many more laws which could be included into this category.
